Marion College administrators, faculty members and students are all in the process of building toward the tomorrows. The administrators plan improvements in the physical plant and the curriculum, faculty members gain higher degrees of education to raise the level of school standing, and students enrich their own lives by building spiritually and educationally to make better Christian citizens of themselves.

The ability to get along with others is foundational for good Christian citizenship. The new-student reception, rush week, freshman initiation and the banquets provide a lively framework for the social activities of the year.

of Building Are Utilized by All

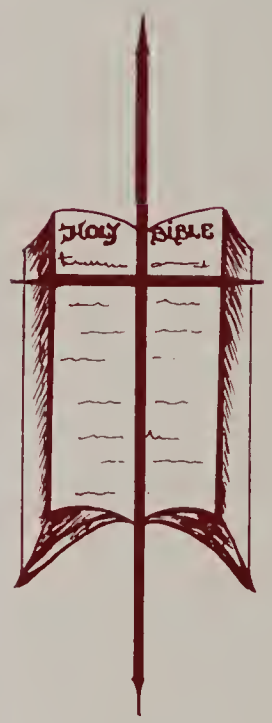
"According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereupon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereon. For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

I Corinthians 3:10,11

The Advice



Dr. O. G. Wilson spoke to us during Youth Week.

We learned by cooperating with students from other campuses.

of the Chief Architect Is Sought

Many times the counsel of one who has been in the Way for some time helps us to determine the true
Will of God.
"Without counsel purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors
they are established."

Proverbs 15:22

Visits with the guidance director proved helpful for many.

Language Arts

Christmas caroling after the "Messiah" was helpful.

Finishing Touches Are Applied Through Practice

How many times we have heard the sayings "Practice makes perfect" and "Experience is the best teacher". We each know that this is many times true.

Especially in the education and homeletics classes here at Marion College the actual doing of the subjects taught is emphasized.

Chuck Adkins spoke to us many times from the Word of God.

Honors this year go to Margaret Hodson, assistant professor of biological sciences
here at Marion College.

Miss Hodson is an alumna of Marion College who graduated in 1932 with
A.B. and B.S. degree.
She continued her studies and received her A.M. from the University of Michigan in 1946.
Further study has occupied her summers since that time.
Her experience includes teaching in the public schools of Indiana and in the Zion's Hill
Mission School in Rock Lick, Kentucky. She has held her present position since 1942.

Miss Hodson is well liked by all her students and acclaimed by many as as their favorite professor.

Congratulations, Miss Hodson.
We're proud of you!

William F. McConn

Marion College is honored to have Dr. William F. McConn as her president. With his interest in and insight into the future he has guided her progress for over a quarter of a century. During these years all alumni have learned to respect him as an administrator, a counselor and a friend. His sense of humor, his knowing smile and his ability to understand build a strong tie between him and the students. His services extend not only to our college, but also to our church, our community and our country. We do indeed share great respect and admiration for this our president.

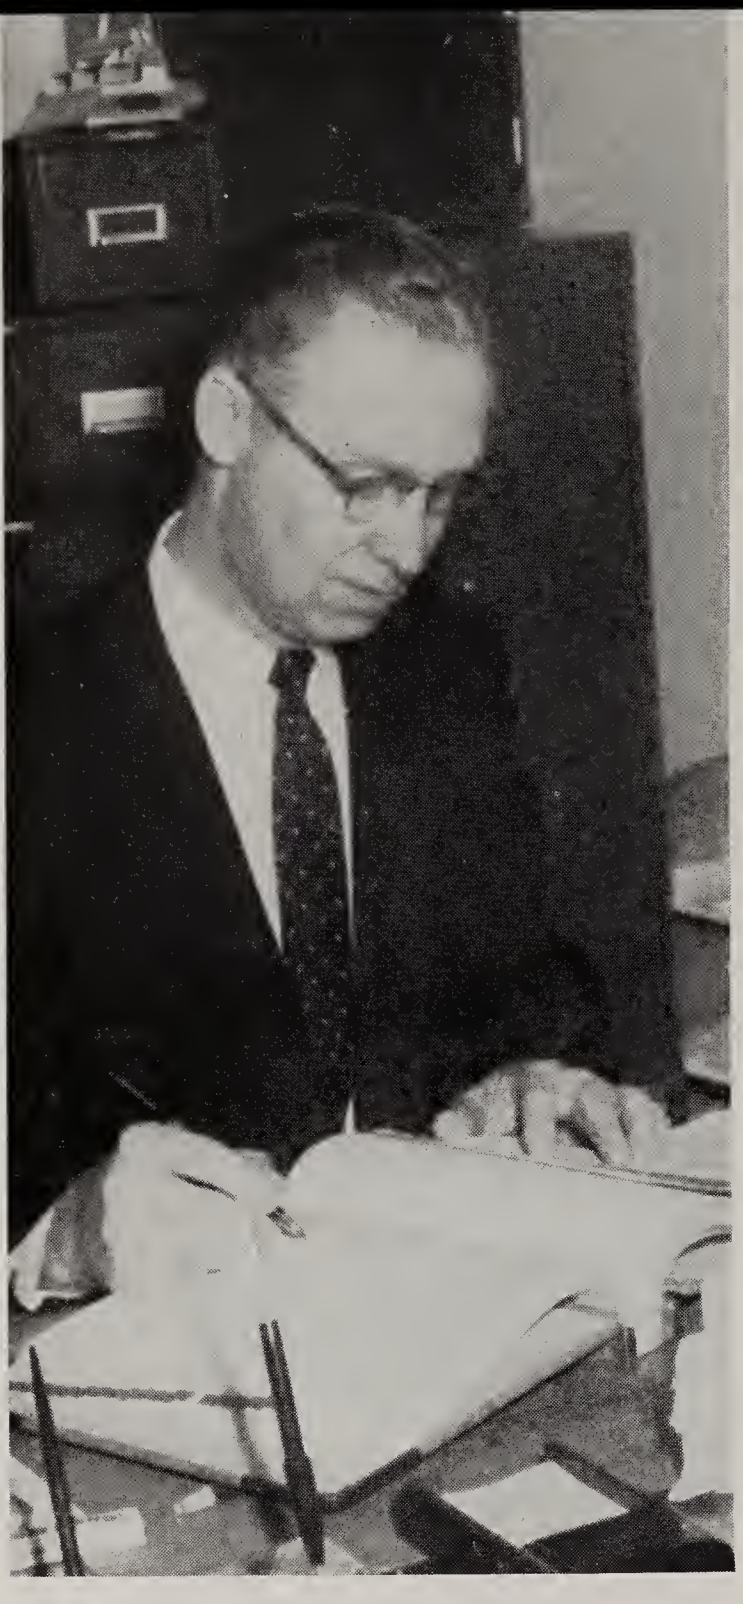
Spiritual Life

"For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

—I Corinthians 3:11



School Chaplain

"Busy Beavers"—this could mean none other than our chaplain and his family. Life for the Beavers ranges from the rather seldom peaceful legato to the persistent rapid staccato characteristic of parsonage life. Other than serving as Marion College Chaplain, Rev. Beaver also holds several other responsible positions, such as Pastor of our College Church, Secretary of the General Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Marion College. Our student body has deep respect for our chaplain. Not only his searching sermons on Sundays but also his challenging chapel messages were a source of inspiration to us throughout the year. Giving himself "continually to prayer and to the ministry of the Word," he outlined for us from time to time a program of substantial spiritual development. For being our spiritual adviser and our friend, we extend a heart-felt "thank you" to the busiest of the "Busy Beavers."

Social functions are graced by the presence of the Beaver family.

Rev. Wolgemuth, Mrs. Ellis, Rev. Ellis.

Rev. McIntyre.

Special Services

Revival time is a time of spiritual construction. This year our special workers were truly anointed of the Lord. Fall evangelist, Robert W. McIntyre, General Secretary of Wesleyan Youth, brought to us practical messages which were of great blessing to the entire college and church constituency. Professor Baker was the minister of music. New ground was also gained during the spring revival with M. L. Goodman, pastor of the Pilgrim College Church in Owosso, Michigan, evangelist and E. B. Wallace, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Vineland, New Jersey, song evangelist and chalk artist. The guest speakers for the annual Missionary Convention were Malcolm and Virgie Ellis, missionaries on furlough from the African field, and Sam Wolgemuth, representing Youth For Christ International. All these special services this year contributed much to the strengthening of our spiritual foundation.

Rev. Goodman, Rev. Wallace.

Tuesday evening prayer and praise service was a source of inspiration to all who attended.

Student Conference

The Student Conference proffers to Marion College students opportunities for apprenticeship in the field of Christian evangelism. Promoting gospel teams to travel throughout the area, providing chapel, rest home, jail and factory services are the most prominent Student Conference activities.

Many times of spiritual refreshing came as a result of the Tuesday evening prayer and praise services held in the chapel. Guest speakers and special music provided something new and inspirational at each gathering. The Student Conference serves as another stepping stone in the building of strong Christian character.

Organized for students especially interested in the missionary program, the Foreign Missions Fellowship featured speakers representing various fields and phases of missionary endeavor. The F.M.F. gathered every Tuesday at 12:45 to spend time in singing and intercession in behalf of those called of the Lord to serve in mission areas.

Projects for the year included the installment of a special bulletin board in the chapel on which names were placed weekly as a reminder for all to pray for missions. Plans were made to purchase F.M.F. insignias to wear on sweaters. The exchange of letters and the sending of cards to our missionaries on special days during the year proved a source of pleasure and enjoyment to both the sender and the receiver.

Fellowship members received enlightenment, encouragement and a new determination to "press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God."

Gospel Teams

D. Carlson, P. Crail, J. Clifford, K. Fraker.

D. Matthews, L. Lupton, J. Rowe, N. Douglas, C. Adkins, Leader.

Traveling hither, thither and yon evenings, Sundays and entire weekends, the Marion College Gospel Teams have been active throughout the year, rendering service to the King while also representing Marion College. These teams are sent out by the Student Conference with Professor Walter Titus as the faculty sponsor. Student ministers, singers, instrumentalists, readers and artists compose the membership of these groups. The Marion College Gospel Teams, having answered the Master's call, have gained experience which will be invaluable to them in a life of full-time Christian service.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15.

Missionary Project Committee

This committee is made up of the presidents of Wesleyan Youth, F. M. F. and Student Conference. Raising money for the support of missionaries is their most important task, although they do sponsor the missionary convention each fall.

Student Ministerial Association

Students composing this organization are those who have given their lives in willing service to God and mankind.

"And who then is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the Lord? . . . Then the people rejoiced, for that they offered willingly, because with perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lord." I Chronicles 29:5b, 9a.

Choir Specialties

P. Crail, H. Apel, D. Castro, D. Klaasen.

The choir sextet and quartet were groups within a group serving double duty on all choir trips. Their singing was a treat for every audience, including the other choir members. Their audiences ranged from small groups in individual churches to a great Indoor Camp Meeting audience at Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis. Presenting the dedicated, inspiring and challenging message of the living Christ was a true joy to these young people during the past year.

"And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the Lord."

Psalm 40:3.

Seated: B. Sheets, D. Glenn, Miss Waters, Prof. Huffman, M. Kierstead, M. David.
Standing: D. Carlson, N. Ross, M. Fowler, J. Crim, K. Fraker.

Student Council

Our capable Student Council President was Don Glenn who was ably assisted by Marvin Kierstead, vice president; Mayer David, treasurer; Beverly Sheets, secretary, and Don Carlson, chaplain. Membership in the Council is determined by the election of one representative from each class, the class presidents, the Council president and the social deans.

The Student Council was organized in 1938 with these aims; to secure a closer relationship and better understanding between faculty and students and to assist in the supervision of student activities. A few of their responsibilities are to have charge of all-school socials, to maintain Marion College traditions and ideals and to be the medium of expressing student ideas, suggestions and opinions to the faculty.

The purchasing of hymn books for the chapel was a project completed by the Student Council. They undertook to post a calendar of monthly events as well as a weekly schedule of chapel programs. Funds were appropriated to have a Marion College sign painted and placed at a strategic point in the city of Marion.

Parties in the gym were enjoyed by all.

Amphics

M. Higgins, Treas.; K. Kaiser, V. Pres.; Prof. Huffman, Sponsor; C. Brown, Pres.; J. Kerschner, Sec'y.

Under the direction of President Carroll Brown the Amphics this year started off with a real "bang." Rush Week was hectic from start to finish. Badges, ribbons, pamphlets and speeches kept the new students in a constant state of turmoil until finally on Rush Day, midst much clutter, clapping, chatter and cheering many new Amphics plowed through on the gayly decorated red and white side. Enthusiasm soared! A real fight was put up in all sports making basketball games, especially, tense and high-pitched with excitement. New basketball uniforms and a newly revised constitution were two items on the list of real accomplishments. This has truly been a good year. New hope, new life and new vigor are beginning to surge in Amphic blood.

The Eurekan Society is well-known for its *E*nthusiasm, *U*nity, *R*esponsibility, *E*arnestness, *K*indness, *A*ctivities and *N*ew ideas! These attributes combined to see them through a busy, victorious year. On Rush Day a large percentage of "new" students made their way down the green and white side with happy "old" members cheering them on.

Looking back on the happenings of the year we remember the hayride and hilarious party which followed, the club-sponsored films and the Eurekan spirit aroused by Eurekan Day activities. Victory in the Marionette Sales Contest, and the football and men's basketball series was the result of diligent effort on the part of loyal club members.

The Eurekans strive to develop themselves spiritually, socially, mentally and physically into young people better prepared to "Hold High the Torch" for the Eurekan Society and Marion College.

"Marion College in print" is the motto of the Journal. In this paper, alumni, friends, faculty and students alike catch a glimpse of activities at Marion College. Under the competent leadership of Rachel Cox, editor-in-chief, and John Rowe, business manager, the staff has completed a full year. It remembers the hard work and anxious moments, but most of all it remembers the fun it has had, and realizes, even in the printing of the school paper, it may be said "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us . . . Marionette

"A summary of the facts of a year" is the definition which Webster gives for a yearbook. The staff has tried its best to build for the reader a summary of this year at Marion College.

The staff has benefited by the original ideas of its capable editor, Marvin Kierstead, who shows great potential for the future. The staff has enjoyed working under the leadership of their editor and their business manager, Pierce Brane, who has kept the book on its feet financially.

BIO Club

Birds, bugs or bears! If you have an interest in the biological science field, you would enjoy the Bio Club and its various activities. These range from intriguing discoveries in lab work to picnic expeditions at Matter Park. The main project sponsored by the Bio Club is the presentation of the Audubon Screen Tours. Friends from the community as well as faculty and students thrilled anew as each tour by screen unfolded to them oft hidden wonders and beauties of nature. The Bio Club with its capable leadership endeavors to instill in the minds of students a respect and an appreciation for the world and its inhabitants.

S. E. A.

The Student Education Association is affiliated with the national organization. This group is composed of young men and women who are preparing for the teaching field. It's purposes are to develop among students an understanding of the teaching profession, to acquaint them with the various education associations, to interest capable young people in education as a life-long career and to give them practical experience in working with groups on problems of the profession and society.

The A. Jones Chapter of the S. E. A. has had a very active year with Jackie Garner serving as president. Members of the club cooperated willingly in several projects which included a car wash, a party for underprivileged children and a springtime banquet for supervising teachers. Films were shown, special speakers were invited and various workshops were attended during the year. These are all contributing factors in the training of competent future teachers.

The S. E. A. held a car wash this year as one of its projects.

Parnassus Club

The Parnassus Club has as its outlined purpose to promote high scholastic efforts among members, to sponsor literary contests and to build a foundation of correct usage of the English language. At their meetings the members enjoyed special features in addition to promoting ways and means for fulfilling the objectives of the Club.

Spanish Club

Campus-wide enthusiasm and interest in discovering more about Spanish speaking peoples is the aim of the Spanish Club. They study customs, people and land as well as the language. Special speakers, pictures, Spanish dinner and the old custom of breaking a pinata at Christmastime make this club enjoyable and profitable.

The Forensic Club has been organized to promote interest and efficiency in the art of public speaking. Their first meeting was a dinner welcoming new members. Besides regular meetings, it sponsored the extemporaneous speaking and Bible reading contests, under the direction of Beverly Sheets. Many thanks to Leigh Nygard, president, and Miss Laura Emerson, sponsor, for an enriching year.

I. R. C.

The International Relations Club is devoted to the study of modern current history. This year the group studied "Sputnik," Russia and China. They enjoyed a trip, by screen, to Europe and a delicious Chinese dinner at the House of Chan. The meetings this year have been very interesting and well-attended.

Musicae

Throughout the year the Musicae agenda was filled with a variety of interesting and informative meetings and activities. At the beginning of the year Eleanor Baker was elected president of the organization for her second year in that office. The other executive officers were Madelyn Marsh, vice president; Judith Kerschner, secretary; and Ann Clifford, treasurer. Mrs. Parker was sponsor.

The induction of new members was an important item at the first of the year. Splendid cooperation and excellent attendance were characteristic of this year's meetings. The annual dinner meeting was held at the Ranch House in April, constituting the meeting of that month. For the May meeting the group attended Verdi's opera Aida which was presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company at Purdue University. The Musicae endeavored this year to inspire on our campus more vital interest in one of the greatest languages of the universe—Music.

E. Baker, M. Marsh and J. Kerschner discuss business in an executive council meeting.

Band

This year the band was divided into two groups of brass and woodwind ensembles. They performed both separately and as a whole to provide instrumental music for various school functions. The repertoire of the band included numbers ranging from the early classical to the modern compositions. Relaxation and enjoyment were results of the varied program of lilting novelty tunes and the incomparable works of early composers.

The purpose of the ensembles is to give interested students the opportunity to use their talents and to provide music for school activities. It is hoped that the instrumental department will continue to grow and become an outstanding organization on the campus.

Chorus

"Sing unto the Lord" is an admonition often given the Community Chorus by Professor Herman Baker, its director. This organization is composed of persons from the college, church, and community. It presents annually two major works. One of them is traditionally Handel's "Messiah" during the Christmas season and the other this year was Mendelssohn's "Elijah" during the Easter season. The Chorus each year is a source of inspiration both to those who participate in it and to those who hear the message it sings.

Choir

Professor Herman Baker, as director of the Marion College Choir, has the responsibility of molding and building the choir into a group with one thought; that of spreading the gospel in song. His endeavors, combined with the cooperation of its members, carried the choir through a successful and enjoyable year. Their itinerary found them singing and sight-seeing in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky. Many happy memories linger of bumpy bus rides, bountiful banquets and beautiful countryside. Most important of all, however, were the times of spiritual blessing and enrichment which came to one and all. Truly the choir served the Lord with gladness and came before His presence with singing.

"... and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

—Hebrews 12:1

This year at Marion the Eurekans were able to win the first three Amphic-Eurekan football games to sweep the series. The Amphics were held scoreless as the Eurekans romped to scores of 39-0, 18-0, and 25-0.

All during the three games the fans and spectators saw the two teams battle desperately to try to send the pigskin into the end zone in an attempt to raise the score over the other. Also there was a lot of that spirit of rivalry between the Amphics and Eurekans as they met in combat under beautiful blue skies.

Football season over, each player can say "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course." II Tim. 4:7

Basketball Plays Important Part in M.C. Sports

In the 1958 Amphic-Eurekan Basketball Series, the green and white Eurekan team swept through the season with four straight wins. The Amphics, though supporting the losing end of each game's score, fought hard and usually matched their opponent's strength and overall experience. Toward the end of the season both teams had progressed and gained playing skill and ball-handling ability, displaying their fine capabilities, powerful strength and Christian spirit on the basketball court. Our hats off to the red and white Amphic team and the victorious green and white Eurekans.

Amphic-Eurekan Cheerleaders Have Active Season

All-star cheerleaders were chosen this year for the first time. These cheerleaders were invited to join the "M" Club.

Ping-Pong Tables Kept Busy

Jean Shung Park was the winner of the 1957 ping-pong tourney. Julian Bruening, a fierce competitor, dominated the tables this year.

During the first part of the year the ping-pong tables were on the platform in the gym. In March the tables were placed in the recreation center on the lower floor of old Congress Hall.

Row One: M. Griswold, R. Dragstrem, W. Klinger, P. Bauer, D. Sloan.
Row Two: P. Crail, J. Maxey, D. Harvey.

"B" Teams Look Alive

The "B" teams had to fight their basketball series the full length of five games to decide the winner. In the final game, the Eurekans drove to a championship win, thus ending their season on top of the heap. Both teams promised much potential for the coming year.

Class of 1958

The seniors, having reached the fourth floor of their building, are ready to put on the "roof" which will climax their careers at Marion College. Construction engineers leading the rest of the senior crew were: John Crim, president; Harold Bardsley, vice president; Phyllis Kuhn, secretary; Jacqueline Garner, treasurer; Mable Fowler, S. C. representative; Carl Rucker, chaplain and Prof. Clarence Huffman, sponsor. This year's class had lots of enthusiasm in planning for their projects, song, motto, parties, Junior-Senior Banquet and Commencement activities. An air of mystery about the Senior Sneak concealed hints of "how, where and when." The deep, dark wonders of Mamouth Cave were explored, and a feeling of temporary "richness" was experienced as the group visited Ft. Knox.

Opportunities met, friendships resulting in lifelong remembrances and vocations chosen and prepared for are just a few of the benefits of four years spent in Marion College. Their foundations have been firmly laid in Christian principles, and as they leave, they go well equipped to carry out their motto: "Do thy duty, that is best; leave unto the Lord the rest . . ." — Longfellow

Class of 1959

At last they had arrived! The deserving sophomores had reached the desired goal of upperclassmen. However, the title of "Junior" brought much responsibility and not a little effort upon the part of each member of the class. They had to be constantly alert to give the Seniors a rousing send-off on their Sneak. For some reason the Seniors were quite forgetful about notifying the Juniors of their departure, but that was remedied by the Juniors seeing them off at Fairmount Camp Grounds. Class basketball season soon got under way. The Juniors weren't too busy planning for their new crew-neck sweaters, class pins and the party given them by Taylor Juniors to miss winning the tournament. In January the Seniors gave the class a hilarious "party-e-o," that included everything from an exciting scavenger hunt to delicious refreshments. The grand culmination of the year's activities was the intensive planning for and presentation of the Junior-Senior Banquet which was held with all the traditional distinction and grandeur of past years. These are some of the events that led the class through the year to the much-anticipated goal of Move-up Day and the title, "Senior Class of 1959!"

Class of 1960

Having made sufficient progress during their first year of college, the green garb of freshmen was laid aside and the more advanced robe of the sophomores was donned. They faithfully fulfilled their obligation to the freshman class by initiating them with definite fervor. As their peace offering a Space Party complete with rockets, satellites and sputniks was given for the initiates. Studies, church and campus organizations, sports and social functions made spare the spare minutes for the majority of the class members, speeding them rapidly on their way to the much yearned for Junior year. Their officers were: Don Carlson, president; Charles Brown, vice president; Nancy Thompson, secretary; Nanette Dayton, treasurer; Beverly Sheets, student council representative, and Warren Toops, chaplain. Professor Thompson was the sponsor.

Seated: L. Kierstead, E. H. Shigley, E. Winterholter.

Class of 1961

And here came the freshmen—big ones, little ones, Yankees and Southerners! Moving in, registering, being homesick for the first time, trying to decide whether to be an Amphic or a Eurekan were a few of the hair-pulling experiences of the first few days. Before they could rest, however, the Sophomores treated them to a tremendous initiation. By this experience they became full-fledged freshmen.

Really, most of these "firsts" were delightful days because of the warmth and friendship of the older students, faculty and administration which greeted them upon their arrival here.

The officers for their first year were: Mayer David, president; George Hood, vice president; Lois Kierstead, secretary; Edith Winterholter, treasurer; Norman Ross, student council representative and Herb Apel, chaplain. Professor Shigley was their sponsor.

During this year, the members of the freshman class have become an integral part of the spiritual, intellectual and social life of Marion College—the school of their choice.

Dear All:

Just a note to say thanks to all who helped make this copy of the MARIONETTE possible.

First of all, thanks to all the staff members with whom I've worked the closest . . . to H. J. for your assistance in doing anything which needed to be done . . . to Jo and Carroll for the excellent artwork done on this annual . . . to Irene and Judy for doing a part of the book which is so necessary and yet so often overlooked . . . to David for your help in the sports section . . . and to Dave and Chuck without whom this book could not have been edited. Thanks, Dave, for stepping in in the middle of the year and helping pull in all the loose ends.

Thanks, Pierce, for your cooperation from the business end of the book. You and your hard-working assistants were invaluable to the publication of this annual.

Thanks, Faculty, for your full cooperation in all ways. Dr. Porter, thank you for sponsoring this annual . . . just for being there when needed.

Thanks to the Loudermilk Studios, Indianapolis Engraving Company, S. K. Smith Cover Company, Brock and Rankin Binders, and the Bainbridge Printing Company for your assistance. Thanks, Russell, for all your patience with me.

Thank you, advertisers, for your advertisements which appear on the next few pages. We appreciate your patronage and know that you appreciate the patronage of all our readers.

Again I wish to say THANK YOU to everyone who has helped make this publication possible.
